

YOLO DEMOCRAT.

County Official Paper.

WOODLAND, CAL.
Saturday, February 25, 1871.

LENT.—Lent began on Tuesday and ends on the 9th of April. A lengthy period for fasting.

BURNED.—The Lincoln School House, the finest educational building in San Francisco, was burned on Wednesday morning, damage estimated at $25,000.

DIVORCE.—A bill to be presented to the Indiana Legislature providing that no divorced person shall marry again till three years have elapsed after a divorce was obtained.

SAFE.—The Steamship Tennessee, which it was feared was lost, arrived at Samana Bay, Jan. 25th, seven days out from New York. She had a rough passage but reports all well.

SACRAMENTO WINS.—In the main of gamecocks fought in Virginia City last Saturday night, for $1,000, the Sacramento birds came out ahead, winning four out of five contests.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.—In Napa, Feb. 20th, Fred Coombs, brother of Nathan Coombs, shot his wife and then killed himself instantly. The former lived about twenty minutes. Family troubles the cause.

LEGISLATORS RESIGNING.—A telegram of the 22d says: "It is reported that thirty-five Republicans in the Indiana House of Representatives have, or will resign to-morrow, and that Republican Senators will do the same."

BANROFF'S GUIDE.—We have received the February number of "Banroff's Guide for Travelers in the Pacific States," giving routes, distances, fares, etc., all over the Coast, and a description of the principal towns, but in the case of Woodland far from correct. It is a very useful work and sold at 25 cts. per number.

EXECUTIVE PARDON.—Gov. Haight has pardoned S. A. Allen, who was convicted at the April term, 1870, of the County Court of Yolo county, of the crime of grand larceny, and sentenced to two years' imprisonment in the State Prison. The pardon was recommended by Hon. S. M. Bliss, the Judge who presided at his trial, and Hon. James Johnson.

PACIFIC COAST ADVERTISER.—We have received the first number of the Pacific Coast Advertiser, a new paper published by the Pacific Coast Advertising Agency of San Francisco, California. It is similar to Eastern journals of the same class, with a variety of reading matter, and will be of use to every class of business men, as it gives a list of all the newspapers and periodicals on this coast.

STATE EXPERT.—Tabb Mitchell, clerk in the office of the Controller of State—who edited a newspaper in this State during 17 years, and is moreover a practical printer—having been appointed as expert to the State Board of Examiners, (says the Union), has generously given his power of attorney to the widow of Charles E. Fisher, his predecessor in office, to draw the monthly salary pertaining thereto, while he fills the position.

FRANCE.—In the election held on the 8th inst., in France, for members of the General Assembly, the Republicans were successful in eight departments, the Liberal Unionists in two. The main question for the Assembly is whether peace shall be made on the terms offered by the German Emperor. Thiers, who distinguished himself by his bitter opposition to the declaration of war against Prussia, has been elected by a very large majority.

REVIEWS.—The negro Senator Revels' review in the United States Senate will terminate on the fourth of March. The Cleveland Herald, a Radical paper, is disgusted with the colored Senator, and speaks of him thus: "As a Senator—we use the language of one of his own color, though a smarter man by three shades—he has not amounted to 'shucks.' He is not a success, either, as a lecturer. In fact, Revels is rather poor trash, as they say down South, and his election to the Senate has not advanced the cause of the negro race one step."

GRANT.—The New York Express, speaking of Grant and his predecessors, says: "Washington died (after an incumbency of the Presidential office of eight years) not worth so much as one year's salary of the President. Madison and Monroe died terribly poor. Washington went into the Revolution as a comparatively poor man, and came out of the Government service of fifteen years comparatively impoverished. Grant, in 1861, was not worth ten cents; he will go out of 'service' on the 4th of March, 1873, with a fortune, it is believed, of millions of dollars, and with his family, lineal, collateral and matrimonial, saddled upon the Government."

OVERLAND MONTHLY.—This Queen Magazine of the Pacific Coast for March is received, containing the following articles: "In Rome with Horace; An Episode of 'Fort Desolation'; A short stay in Annapolis; One Life; Western Woodlands; A College Reminiscence; Under the Dragon's Footstool (second paper); An Unexplained Mystery; Resources of New Zealand; The Consumption; Story of a Ducal Mansion; Pueblo Indians; Bally; Picking Historical Marrow-Bones; Grizzly Papers (No. 3); Offers for the Child; Etc.; Current Literature, embracing a variety of topics which are treated in a very interesting style.

The Storm and its Effects.

On last Monday and Tuesday nights California was visited by a regular old-fashioned storm, putting one in mind of the winter of '59 and '61. The wind howled furiously and for a time the rain came down in torrents. It then ceased, during Tuesday, but in the evening came on again in dead earnest—not so much wind but more rain, continuing through the night. Probably as much as two inches of rain fell during the storm, and has, with what had fallen before soaked into the ground pretty thoroughly, making our farmers, for the first time feel confident of good crops. The wheat is already looking finely, and with this further assurance of sufficient moisture to mature it, confidence will be re-established in every branch of business, and money holders will be likely to loosen their grips somewhat so as to let the "medium" circulate. We have not learned of any damage having occurred in this vicinity. In San Francisco several buildings either in course of construction or poorly built, were more or less damaged and several persons lost their lives. A brick fire-wall was blown down, which fell upon a low building beside it and killed four persons. The vessels in the bay were tossed about in a lively manner, breaking from their moorings, dragging their anchors, etc. At Vallejo some damage was done to buildings—roofs and chimneys—the wind having full sweep there from the bay. In Sacramento several inferior buildings were demolished, also in Marysville. In the latter city we learn that several buildings of a more substantial character also suffered. We gather from the Marysville papers that it reached its height about 2 o'clock A. M., and was then followed by a heavy thunder-storm. Tuesday evening it rained very hard with a strong wind blowing from the south. Numbers of shade trees, awnings, chimneys and sheds were blown down on Monday, and several buildings unroofed and blown down. One wing of the brick building in Cortes Square, built by the Agricultural Society, is blown down, with considerable damage to the stock of the wagon-makers by whom it was occupied. The passenger depot of the Central Pacific Railroad Company is nearly down. The walls are so cracked and broken as to render it unfit for further use, and it probably will be torn down. The patent windmill at Briggs' Station, owned by the Central Pacific Railroad Company, but recently received from the East, and valued at something over $5,000, was blown down during Monday night and made a complete wreck. There is no doubt but that this is the most severe storm that has occurred in California for a number of years. The Sacramento river is full to overflowing. Putah and Cache Creeks have risen some five or six feet. While the disasters of the storm are to be deplored, the good to arise to the State from the rainfall is incalculable.

THE SANTA CLARA COLLEGE.—The Sacramento Bee, not satisfied with the exposure we made of the Santa Clara College having a negro student in that institution, for which reason several Yolo boys had left it and come home, has procured and published a card from "Father Vani," President of the College. The card may be well enough as to that we have little to say. The Editor of the Bee, we are informed, has a son in the College, and the Bee being a Radical paper, thinks it its duty to deny what we said upon the subject, though we had the authority of one of the boys himself and that of his father, a member of the State Board of Equalization, and also of the father of another of them, who was a member of the last Legislature. For political purposes no doubt, the Marysville Appeal also takes the above mentioned card as a text, and commences by saying that "some weeks since the Yolo Democrat published several low-flung articles against the Santa Clara College," etc., to which we take decided exceptions. We are not "on it," Mr. Appeal. We stated facts as given us. As to the intimation of poverty of the students who left because they would not "bel and board with a negro," we will just state that every one of them had paid up in full—the fathers of the boys whose names we gave at the time are worth, jointly, not less than $125,000, and not one of them less than $25,000. The Appeal and the Bee both carefully avoid mentioning the fact that a negro was actually run out of the same institution a year or two ago. We have not room for further refutation of this card, but will publish Father Vani's card and perhaps further ventilate the matter in our next.

BUTTE COUNTY DEMOCRACY.—The Marysville Standard publishes a list of candidates for county officers to be considered in their Nominating Convention, as follows: For County Judge, S. M. Bliss, Marysville; Sheriff, S. H. Bradley, Marysville; Treasurer and Tax Collector, L. B. Clark, Virginia Ranch; County Clerk, Thos. H. Kernan, Marysville; Assessor, McMurray, Camp-tonville; Prosecuting Attorney, N. E. Whiteside, Marysville; State Senator, J. L. Gibson, Strawberry Valley; Assemblyman, Judge Howser, Wheatland; N. J. Martin, Park's Bar Township; John Rose, Rose Bar Township.

NOTICE TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS.—We have made arrangements with John H. Carnahan & Co., publishers of the Overland Monthly, by which we are enabled to furnish said magazine in connection with this paper, for the sum of $7 per annum for both publications. Send in your names. Those who have already paid their subscriptions to our paper, can obtain the Monthly for one year by remitting us $3. The price of the Overland alone is $4 a year.

THE STORM AT VALLEJO.—The principle office of the California Pacific Railroad Company at Vallejo, February 20th, was unroofed and other damage done. Thomas & Hunt's warehouse was unroofed, and some other damage done.

ACCIDENT.—J. S. Henning fell on a slippery walk on Thursday evening and striking the edge of the plank broke one of his ribs. He is about, however, and doing well.

The Subsidy Question.

We publish an extract from the pamphlet of Henry George on this great absorbing question, which shows how identical is the negative side of it with the practices and principles of the Democratic party, even from its foundation to the present time. Try to cover it up as they will, the opponents of the outspoken Democracy will find that it must be met in our State Convention, and for one, we intend to keep it before the people that they may know how to meet it and act accordingly. Those who favor subsidizing corporations and capitalists want to name the candidate for Governor in the Democratic Convention. But the more the matter is discussed the more united the Democracy appears to be in opposing the grasping claims of railroad and other monopolies. Mr. George in his pamphlet, says:

The line drawn on this subsidy question goes to the bed rock. The principle involved is the principle involved in the tariff question, in the currency question, in every great economic question of the day. It is protection vs. free trade; governmental interference vs. individual liberty; special privilege vs. equal rights.

And it goes, too, to the very heart and core of our politics. It is centralization against State rights; class government against popular government; aristocracy against democracy.

For it was not merely for the sake of the legitimate effects which such a system would have upon the country, but the party now dominant in the country has carried to such lengths. It was because both great minds saw the legitimate effects which such a system would have upon our institutions. The one, profoundly convinced of the inability of the people to govern themselves, regarding the British Constitution as the perfect expression of human wisdom, believing that Democratic Republicanism such as had been instituted in the United States could lead only to anarchy, yet despairing of at once inaugurating a monarchy, sought to build up a colossal money power, whose interests should be completely interwoven with the Government; which would act as a great conservative ruling force, supplying the place of king and aristocracy; and which, dependent upon the Government for the means of its existence, would be the instrument into its keeping, and through its forms rule the people. The other, just as firmly convinced of the ability of the people to govern themselves, just as firmly believing that the trust liberty and the greatest prosperity and happiness could be secured only by the people to govern themselves, clearly that the only way in which those institutions could be maintained was by keeping the functions of government at their minimum; saw that every extension of the field of government lessened the power of the people over it; that every interference of the government to encourage this or that branch of trade or industry increased the motive of corruption and the fund at its use.

Here is the genuineness of the two great prominent parties by which the country has been divided since the inception of our government; here is the meaning of the contest which they have waged over construction and powers; here is the touch-stone by which that belonging to the one and that belonging to the other can be infallibly determined!

HON. W. W. PENDEGAST.—We find in the Union of the 21st inst. the following complimentary mention of our former townsman, the eloquent Senator of Napa. His career of usefulness in public life not only merits the approbation of friends but commands the respect of his political enemies. We heartily coincide in the views expressed by the Union, and earnestly desire to see him again at his post of duty in the State Senate, unless he thinks proper to yield to the solicitations of many warm friends who desire him to become a candidate for Congressional honors, where his sphere of usefulness would be more extensive. Says the Union: "Senator Pendegast of Napa county is announced as a candidate for re-election in the Napa, Lake and Mendocino District. If that district is to elect a Democratic Senator this year it could make no better choice than this man. He has abilities, and his course in the Senate at the last session proved him to be a man of honor above the reach of corruption. As much as any other Senator the defeat of the railway job covering subsidy to the amount of many millions was due to Pendegast."

MICHIGAN DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.—The Democratic State Convention of Michigan met at the capital on the 21st to nominate candidates for an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court and for a Regent of the University. For Associate Justice, D. Darwin Hughes, of Marshall, was nominated by a large majority on the second ballot, and the vote was then made unanimous. For Regent, J. M. Sill, of Detroit, Michigan, was nominated on the first ballot. Resolutions were adopted declaring allegiance to the Constitution, favoring a strict party organization, declaring against the corruption of the Administration, and the employment of United States troops in elections.

WELL SPOKEN OF.—Miller & Co., Wool Commission Merchants of San Francisco, whose advertisement is in to-day's paper, give first class references and are well spoken of as prompt business men, by parties who know them. We consider them good men to ship to.

THE STORM AT VALLEJO.—The principle office of the California Pacific Railroad Company at Vallejo, February 20th, was unroofed and other damage done. Thomas & Hunt's warehouse was unroofed, and some other damage done.

ACCIDENT.—J. S. Henning fell on a slippery walk on Thursday evening and striking the edge of the plank broke one of his ribs. He is about, however, and doing well.

Communication.

DAVISVILLE, February 23, 1871.
EDITOR YOLO DEMOCRAT: While we commemorate the birth day of Washington, one of the purest patriots who has lived in any age of the world's history, we naturally recur to his modesty, and incorruptibility, and contemplate the solicitude with which he left the public service and transmitted the guardianship of the Republican institutions, established at such cost of blood and treasure, to those who should come after him, lest the corrupting influence of designing and selfish politicians should destroy the liberties of the people. With thoughts suggested by such reflections, we at once look about us for means of safety. But where shall we find it? Where shall we find a guardian for the Constitution and Laws? In a firm, intelligent and incorruptible judiciary alone! But how shall we attain and preserve such a judiciary? The ablest and purest men to discharge that important service are usually too modest, too reserved in manners and too pure in morals to seek, unsolicited, a position on its bench; such a man is our learned District Judge, Lewis Ramage, whom we now ask to be a candidate at the next election, for Judge of the Supreme Court! Yolo.

THE DISGUISED DRAMA, falsely called medicines, sold in bar rooms as "tonics" and "stomachics," have nothing in common with Dr. Walker's Vinegar Bitters. That famous invigorant does not owe its stimulating properties to fiery and adulterated alcohol, but to medicinal herbs and berries never before combined. The effect of the Bitters in case of constitutional debility, chronic indigestion, liver complaint, and all diseases tending to consumption, is so marvellous that except to those who have felt or witnessed it, the result seems incredible.

GREASING WAGONS.—Greasing buggies and wagons is of more importance than some owners imagine. Many a wheel is ruined by oiling too plentifully. A well made wheel will endure constant wear for ten to twenty years if care is taken to use the right kind and proper amount of oil; but if this matter is not attended to, the wheel will be used up in five or six years, or may be sooner. Lard should never be used on a wagon; for it will penetrate the hub and work its way out around the spokes and spoil the wheel. Nothing but castor oil should be used on an iron axle; just oil enough should be applied to a spindle to give it a light coating; this is better than more, for the surplus put on will work out at the ends and be forced by the shoulders and nut into the hub around outside of the boxes. To oil an axle, first wipe the spindle clean with a cloth wet with turpentine, if it won't wipe without it. On a buggy or carriage, wipe and clean off the back and front ends of the hubs and then apply a few drops of castor oil to the axle at each end. One teaspoonful is sufficient for the whole. Greases, Spring Grease and Lard should never be used on the axle of a wagon. Woodland; he has a very superior lot of finished Buggy wheels for sale at the very lowest price that they can be manufactured for. See advertisement elsewhere.
